“An International newsletter for Denbows”

Vol. 6, No. 1

Denbow Directory Issue

The long-delayed directory issue is finally here. In the last issue, it was stated the directory issue would be out in January and would be labeled Vol. 5, No. 3. However, due to the fact that it is now June, this issue has been labeled Vol. 6, No. 1. At least one more issue, and, perhaps, two will be published this calendar year as part of the Vol. 6 series. Whether it is two or three total issues this year will depend in large part on the number of letters and/or articles that are received from the Denbow diaspora — that’s you! Any and all contributions are greatly appreciated. — CJD

No Family Reunion in 1999 . . . But a big bash in 2000!

For several reasons, including declining attendance and the over-booked schedules of the major planners of these events, it was decided to cancel the 1999 Denbow Reunion and, instead, concentrate on a big Centennial Reunion in 2000. Despite what you might have heard the new millennium doesn’t start until Jan. 1, 2001. Maybe that’ll be an excuse for two big reunions two years in a row! But, first things first. Right now we are starting to plan for the Centennial Celebration of five Centuries in the New World — 1663-2000! That’s your heritage, and it’s one to be proud of!!

Directory of the Denbow Family in the USA

These listings are from the 1999 edition of the 88 Million Households Phone Book Deluxe CD-ROM from InfoUSA Inc. They are in order by area code and phone number. This is, perhaps, not the most convenient order, but this was not the most “user friendly” piece of software, either!

Denbow Trivia: Did you that . . .

- ⇒ The first Denbow in North America was John Denboe, who came to Maryland as an indentured servant in 1663?
- ⇒ That a Richard Denbow (c. 1660-1730) went from an unknown point in England to Antigua in the West Indies and founded a rum plantation? He owned ships, a factory, houses and slaves. It is from these slaves, who probably took their former master's surname upon gaining freedom in 1839, that the prominent black Denbow families of the West Indies and Surinam come from.
- ⇒ That there were ten male members of the family in England between the 1600s and the 1800s with the first name of Diggory?
- ⇒ In England, Anastasia Denbow was listed as a nun of Polsloe Priory, near Exeter, in 1347? She was related to Bishop Stapledon of Exeter and a beneficiary under his will.
- ⇒ In 1776, Robert Denbow and Solomon Denbow of Washington County, Pa., are listed as members of the Pennsylvania Militia.?
- ⇒ In 1789, a tax list in Jefferson County, Ky., includes a Solomon Denbo(w)? Same Solomon as above?

Photo I D Contest — Who are these men?

Be the first to identify these two men and win a fabulous special gift from the co-editors — an autographed copy of this photo. It will be autographed by at least one of the two men whose faces are visible in this photograph. Hint: The person on the right is not a member of any known Royal family. The one on the left should be readily recognizable by our English cousins! Have fun!

Directory of the Denbo Family in the USA

George Washington Denbow: A Brief Biography

By Mary Katheryn Denbow Petro

Editor's Note: This is a series of Denbow biographies written circa 1975 by Mrs. Petro. She is a descendant of "Uncle George" and has compiled accurate "warts and all" accounts of her direct ancestors. The editors of this newsletter strive to follow her fine example in our own reporting. If she will allow, we hope to print more of her biographies in upcoming additions.—CJD

George Washington Denbow was born August 8, 1834 in Carroll County, Ohio son of John Denbow and Martha Sharpe. He was a twin of Jackson Denbow who died, age 18, in 1852.

In 1846, George's parents and family moved to a farm in Center Township, Monroe County, Ohio and here George grew to manhood. On September 28, 1858, George married Sarah Jane Rucker, daughter of Ephraim Rucker and Margaret Lockridge. The wedding took place in the Rucker home and was performed by Rev. George Watson. George and Sarah Jane had only three children, all born in Monroe County, Ohio and listed as follows: (1) John R., b. Sept. 11 1859; (2) Darlin B., b. May 14, 1862; and (3) Alonzo Carleton, b. Oct. 19 1867, m. Ida Matilda Wilson, d. Aug. 3, 1933, Columbus, Ohio.

Following his marriage, George purchased a farm in Summit Township, Monroe County. During the Civil War, George enlisted in the U.S. Army Feb. 13, 1864 and served as a private in Company D of the 27th Ohio Volunteer Infantry Regiment. He received a bounty of 4100 for his enlistment. His regiment served in General Sherman's Atlanta, March to the Sea, and Carolina campaigns. George served in all these campaigns and apparently was never wounded because his name appears on all his company's muster rolls. He was honorably mustered out of service July 11, 1865 with his regiment at Louisville, Ky.

After the Civil War, George returned to his Monroe County, Ohio farm. Somewhere along the line, he had acquired a taste for alcohol and apparently became addicted to its excessive use. On December 11, 1894, George applied for and was subsequently granted a U.S. Civil War veteran's disability pension. In his application, he stated that he was afflicted with neuralgia, weak eyes, pain in back near region of spleen, eczema, and rheumatism and that he was unable to earn a living. Apparently shortly after he received this pension, he deserted his wife and home and moved to Sistersville, W.

Va. On Oct. 11 1899, Sarah Jane Denbow (then living in Summerfield, Noble County, Ohio) filed an affidavit saying that her husband, George Denbow, had completely abandoned her and that she had no means of support.

On the strength of this affidavit, the U. S. Bureau of Pensions awarded her one-half of George's pension. This act apparently infuriated George to the extent that he applied for and received a divorce from Sarah Jane in the Circuit Court of Tyler County, West Virginia (Sistersville) dated Feb. 9, 1905. On what grounds George was granted this divorce is not known. In any event, because of the divorce, Sarah Jane was legally no longer entitled to claim one-half of George's pension, and his full pension was restored to him on March 28, 1905. All the above information was obtained from George's military and pension records on file at the U. S. National Archives.

On January 13, 1906, George W. Denbow, age 72, died of paralysis at Lewisville, Monroe County, Ohio. Apparently, his death was unexpected. He was buried in Bracken Ridge Church of Christ Cemetery, Summit Township, Monroe County. His gravestone is a large, gray granite marker, handsomely engraved, but it is not known who purchased this impressive monument. His divorced wife, Sarah Jane, died in 1912 and is buried next to him in an unmarked grave.

Following George's death, Sarah Jane Denbow on March 7, 1906 applied for a widow's pension from the Bureau of Pensions, U. S. Department of the Interior. She was age 66 at the time and was still living in Summerfield, Noble County, Ohio. The results of this application are not known, but it is doubtful that she was successful in as-much as she was divorced from George. George's entire pension amounted to only $24 a month.

Note: According to Irwin "Bean" Denbow of Lewisville, Ohio, George Denbow died of choking to death while dining at a party in Lewisville. This information does not agree, however, with Sarah Jane's affidavit for her widow's pension application in which she states that George died of paralysis.

ADDENDUM:

The Civil War enlistment papers and muster rolls for George W. Denbow in the U.S. National Archives state that he was five feet, five inches tall with fair complexion, sandy hair, and blue eyes. He enlisted February 13, 1864 at Marietta, Ohio and was sent as a redruit to Prospect, Tenn. (about ten miles south of Pulaski) where on March 1 he was assigned to Company D of the 27th Ohio Volunteer Infantry Regiment. At this time, the 27th Ohio was in Col. John Fuller's Brigade, Fourth Division (Maj.

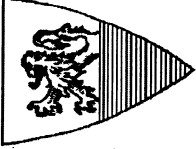

Gen. Veach), 16th Army Corps (Maj. Gen. Grenville Dodge) of Gen. Sherman's Army of the Tennessee. In General Sherman's Atlanta campaign, the 27th Ohio was heavily engaged in the Battle of Kennesaw Mountain, Ga. (June 27, 1864) and the Battle of Atlanta (July 22, 1864). It suffered heavy losses in both engagements. George Denbow was in both actions but came through unscathed. Following the capture of Atlanta, on August 10, 1864 George was sent to the hospital at Marietta, Ga., because of sickness, but by Sept. 1 he was back on regular duty.

George Denbow and the 27th Ohio also participated in Gen. Sherman's famous march from Atlanta to the sea and the ensuing Carolina campaign which ended with the final surrender of the Confederate forces under General Joseph Johnston.

[Editor's Note: It appears that George died of what is now called "food inhalation," and it is most often the result of excessive alcohol consumption. This is the condition for which the Heimlich maneuver was developed. Paralysis was a broad term as used in 19th Century medicine and could have encompassed "choking." Also, at least at the present time, the church at Bracken Ridge is a United Methodist Church. It is part of the Summerfield Charge.]
